Pocket Lovey

Cute, cozy and oh-so-packable.

The Reality

Your precious baby can go from happy to howling in 2.4 seconds flat. The more time you waste rifling through your diaper bag for something to comfort her only raises the decibel levels. Plus, big, bulky blankies aren't always packable. Argh.

I Recommend

Pocket Lovey

Pocket Lovey. Just about every baby on the planet needs something to comfort them when mommy and daddy aren't around. (The fancy baby development term: transitional object.) But "loveys" aren't always so portable. That's why Pocket Lovey rules the roost: Made from plush fake fur and satin, this super-soft baby doodad is a pillow, storage pouch and bite-size blankie all rolled (ahem, folded) in one! Small enough to stash inside a diaper bag or purse, this lovey can also hang from a car seat or crib. And as your baby gets older, she'll find all sorts of joy in stashing her precious toys in the little pocket. (Just be sure they're not daddy's keys!)
